Too many stations wouldn't listen for repeat of my info...GØC. SD very easy to use for this and other contests. Enjoyed the contest very much. 20m was very crowded. Ended up searching and pouncing for contacts which lowered qso rate dramatically. Hard to compete with high power stations and high gain antennas...GØØF. Terrible conditions sadly, at least this far north...GØVGS. ONLY A LASHED UP STATION FOR A BIT OF FUN TO GET AWAY FROM THE XYL'S CONDITION WERE REALLY POOR BUT WE HAD FUN WITH PLEANTY OF LAUGHS...G1A. Just a light-hearted attempt...G1SCT. Poor antennas + increased broadband noise. QRT?...G3RTU. Wrong side of the sunspot cycle for my indoor dipole! Thanks to everyone for your good ears!...G3YRZ. My 2nd SSB contest entry. Not a serious entry, as yet...G4BYE. Over 50...G4HCC. First time on Contest...G4PDF. Getting my 5W signal thru the qrm was hard but fun at 76 I still enjoy contesting. Thanks to all...G4Q. Phased Verticals and dipole helped to reduce interference single band entry this year, due to conditions, looks like it worked!...G7KXZ. Chest infection put stop to any sort of entry. Tough conditions at times...G7Y. Poor on Saturday better conditions on Sunday Search n pounce...G8ZRE. Part-time effort only — thanks to all who called for the points!...G14T. Had great plans for this weekend which all got knocked to bits due family commitments. Still managed a token gesture though...GM4UYZ. Very sorry for late entry of log, due to lost in the immediate family...GW1YQM. Just an hour early sunday still light in gw ,73 all...GW2X. Rig: YAESU FT2000 Antennas: 5-el. monobander Long John Yagis for 28/21/14 MHz and 4-el./3-band Trival Quad for 20/15/10 mtrs. Lazy-H antennas for 7 MHz (NW-SE / SW-NE) Single Quads for 3.5 MHz (SW-NE) / NW/SE / + NVIS for 3.5 MHz (N/S) Delta loops for 1.8-Mhz (NW-SE / SW-NE) / K9AY 160m is not for WPX contest but for some 5 band QSOs. 80m NVIS worked very well for EU and Delta loops for DX. Crowded band. 40m Nice surprise Sunday evening many nice DX worked. YBs were very strong but NP4A was the strongest one. 20m the best short LP opening for VK/ZL for many years on Saturday morning. Crowded band I could only find place at the top band end. But continuous QRM there too. Sooner or later someone stronger always occupied my frequency. Missig the usual queue of DL and PA stations. 15m Both day was very poor, No USA, no JA almost only S&P. 10m No signal heard. Thanks for nice contest! Best regards from Hungary! Charlie...HA3DX. So decided to operate QRP with Yaesu FT-817 only on 40m band (this is where I have more chance to be heard). The band was really crowded and I had to struggle to be heard and to hear the callers, but it's always great fun to operate in a WW contest...IU4FNO. Good morning, I decided to participate in this contest working only the 40m SSB band. There are 2 QSO in log made on other bands that will not be counted for the score Best regards...IU5BJS. licenz 19/06/ 2015...IU5FFM. I don't know if somebody will read this note, anyway I think that it is important to understand in which way the contest results have been achieved, regardless the performance level. I operated IWØGTA/5 (holiday style) for about 18 hours with less than 100W out and 2 vertical antennas: one for 20/15/10m bands and the other one, home made 16m tall with remote tuner, for 40/80/160m bands. I am very satisfied of this temporary and simple installation. 73 de Giovanni...IWØGTA. Yaesu FTDX 3000 - Vertical 4 Bands...W2EVH. Electronic log software crashed continuously due to the obsolescence of my laptop. I had to go "Old School" using paper and pencil. For this reason I had to switch my category to "checklog-by-request." Anyway, with my actual setup (short ended at ground level and 100W) I couldn't fight for high scores. I love contesting, anyway. 73 de...IW2NSE. Single op not assisted low power (40W PEP). Good contest, only few hours to operate. But some new country for my dxcc in 16m! Regards 73s de Dan...IW4CNY. Poor propagation compared to previous editions. Always a great fun...IW5EDI. 100 QSOs is perfect, with 100W and 1 vertical antenna!...IX1CKN. We decided to activate IY4FGM again, this time with a new setup and new antennas. Unfortunately, propagation has not been on our side, but we had a great time anyway, as new and old friends met once more in that very magic place where the Radio initially began. On behalf of the whole team, thanks for the QSOs!...IY4FGM. Poor propagation on 40m...IZ1DGG. Drake T-4XB, RX Ensemble II, Ant T2FD 5-30Mhz...IZ2OOS. Propagation bad but I wanted to try the 10m if only for one hour, 73...IZ8DFO. Few days before the contest I had some issues on my rotator. Fixed them and put up the antenna on the tower ready for the WPX. The band at the beginning was like corked, only during the sunset few opening to Caribbean. Signal strength decrease a lot compare with last year but was exciting anyway. The condition between the U.S.A. and JA was a good, but only for west coast. Especially, We have very heavy strong "Chinese Lader QRM = Over To Horison Lader" with military use. It's very very Bad! But the condition except the U.S.A. was not good. I used my Fishing rod antenna on my balcony of my condominium. I think that website of CQWW WPX page was very good. I enjoy it! Thanks for a great contest...KH6QJ. Rough conditions again this year. 40m was OK, but I think I slept through the best hours. 20m was very noisy and unpredictable. I actually heard some CTs — the first time I've ever heard them. But I could not work them. Also unable to work the RAs I could hear...KL2ZZ. As always WPX provided great fun. 40m was full with very little room to call on. I checked 10m often but heard not a single station...KP2XX. Condx was not good as we are in minimum sunspot period. 10m closed and 15m only slightly open which leaves 20, 40 and 80m as the bands to work...OZ1KKH. Not the best ConDX, nothing at 10m at all, 15m was decent, but very modest activity. 20, 40 & 80m became main bands through the contest. An hour spend on 160m gave a few QSOs. Antennas in use were tribander up 33m, a full size vertical dipole for 40m and a 80m dipole with feedpoint up 30m, this one was in use for 160m too. Good company in the shack and on the bands, all in all an enjoyable weekend...OZ7D. Bad line noise played a large part in being able to hear many stations. Glad to be back in the WPX contest after many years off...P44N. A lot of fun again after 30-year break...PH90T. Was pleased to be sending serial numbers of over 4,000 in 36 hours at this stage in the sunspot cycle, although not quite 4,000 valid QSOs after the Dupes were removed. 10m was as poor as expected, but the other bands were actually better than I was expecting. Compared with last year, more QSOs on 20, 40 and 80m, but far fewer on both 15m and 10m. My claimed score is about 9% down on last year's. Only 74 fewer QSOs but a massive 176 fewer mults this year compared with 2016. I made a couple of tactical errors in choosing my off-times. I should have stayed on 80 and 40m longer on Saturday night / Sunday morning, but went to sleep only to get up before 20m had opened properly. I lost maybe 100 QSOs because of that decision. Also, towards the end of the contest I left 20m to go to 40m but could not find a good run frequency and wasted 30 or 40 minutes trying unsuccessfully to establish a run. I went back to 20m and found it was still good. I was even called by a station in China, which is the first time that has happened in over 3 years of operating from PJ4. Rig: Yaesu FTdx5000, Acom 1500 amplifier, 1kW, to Spiderbeam at 35ft for 10-15-20m, 40m and 80m quarter-wave wire verticals on Spiderbeam fibreglass poles. See you again next year!...PJ4DX. ## USA QRM

Love operating this contest! Had a nice 40m pile up in the last hour...AA1SU. Tnx for another fun weekend...AA5BE. First Licensed 03/19/15...AA5DX. Worked some tasty DX-Australia x2 + my 1st QSO w. Japan after 15 yrs a ham...AB1DQ. Had a great time...AD2H. My favorite contest...AE6YB. There is no classic to select...AG6GL. Due to a number of factors only 9 hours of operation was possible this year. Had a great time for those few hours though!...AI4WU. Licensed September 2014...AI6DO. Many pleasant exchanges very enjoyable!...AI6IN. Licensed 1/06/2015...AI6JB. Full-length Vertical Loop Antenna ICOM 7300 Radio...AI6UW. Difficult QRM on 20 and 40m. Good conditions on 20. Less wide signals than in the past, but still too many...AK1W. My First attempt at contesting! Thanks for putting it on...KØARG. Operated just a few hours in between chores. Lots of fun, a couple new DXCC, learned about 3 new places too...KØBAK. Several New Countries...KØPFZ. First licenced 2/10/2015 as KC1DFL...K1LOL. 100W, G5RV...K1MHZ. Propagation was better this weekend and the world was on the air! This is one of my favorite contests. Gourmet food consisted of a Boston Cream doughnut (actually, half of one because my dog stole the other half!), chocolate chip cookies, and oh yes, a sandwich. Lots of fun! In many QSOS, I relied on my operating skills to pull out callsigns and to copy exact information. All good things to practice!...K1MTD. Crappy prop and it did not get better Sunday. It was clear that 2017 WPX SSB would be part time for us. W3GB planned to be away for the weekend, and besides non-radio priorities N3UM was away from the 0Z start till 15Z Sat. Starting then N3UM tried and could not run, but got 72 Qs in 1.5 hr C&P (Click & Pounce on spots) for 48/hr on 20 and 15m. After lunch he got brief runs on 20m. For 24 QSOs plus 32 more C&P in 1.4 hr. After supper till bedtime 40m was good for 110 Qs, 54 of them 00-01Z, the best hr. yet, 1/2 running. Got 41 Qs on 80 m., ~half 6-pointers. Sum. AM 14-16Z got 52 Qs on 20, all but 13 C&P. In 3 hr. Sun. PM got one good run on 20m, 67 Qs in 1 hr 1750-1850Z, plus 70 more C&P, 14 of those on 15m. Then W3GB came in, unexpected he caught an early plane. He took over for a last 2 hr. on 20 to go over 500 Qs and over 500K claimed score. We were pleased with that since we were only able to get on for 13.2 hrs. total...K3CCR. Op'ed FOC QSO Party, then switched to WPX SSB...K3MD. Only wire antennas...K3NDM. Running QRP (5W) on 40m SSB is always challenging but rewarding!...K3TW. We need some sunspots but still lotsa great activity...K3UA. NOT TOO GREAT...K3URT. 10-22-2015...K4AFE. Amazing how often QSB sets in on a guys last letter! Didn't have to worry about it on 10 or 15 because total silence on those bands here - nevertheless still wkd new pfxes in contest!...KS7T. Thank goodness for same-country QSOs!...KS9K. 5W! Frustrating, but very rewarding!...KT4CB. Terrible conditions here, worst I can remember. I was discouraged by my rate of 6-7 QSOs per hour in spite of trying and trying and trying to be heard by stations that were S9 or better. N1MM+ says I put in 5 hours but I think it was twice that, sometimes going more than a half hour without a contact.
