Actually, WPX SSB was not in my schedule, because here in Germany we have some holiday, kids are off from the school, but our trip to 9A/E7/YU was cancelled due to some problems. I've decided 2 days prior to the Contest to be QRV from my home. FB33 @ 10m high 40 and 80m GP antennas no 160m antenna (well, WPX and 160m. Only to be there if yre you M/M or SO2R to catch all 40 STNs in both night). Condx was on Saturday very good, excpet 15m morning opening to the East we had even a small South America opening on 10m on Saturday evening. # Sunday - no 10m QSO here expect one DL STN. 15 and 20m was not so good on Sunday. Livescore battle was nice, but on Sunday evening DF2F was much better than me on SOAPBOX: 15/20m. Respect for 4M+ score. A big thank to DJ4MH, Marco Holleyn. Well, Marco and I decided to use the same Category just prior to the contest. Mate, next year will be even better for both of US :) And, at the end I've missed last 90m minutes to be QRV. 73s, Zik (VE3ZIK, YT3ZZ)...DK8ZZ. Thank you! Hear you next year, 73 Richard...DL1GO. SD...DL1KRT. FT2000 + Acom 1000...DL1NEO. My working conditions are as follows: Only one dipole for both 40/15m operation (inv. My beam was down about 6ft (one telescopic mast section) due to strong winds, my 40m phased array was down due to a mystery high SWR condition that I didn't have time to fix before the contest (but every cloud has a silver lining and this allowed me to enter the Tribander/ Single Element section), my QSO total was down by nearly 1300 QSOs, my multiplier total by nearly 100 mults, and my claimed score by nearly 6 million points! We planned to do Multi-2 in the 2016 WPX SSB but then W3GB was busy, and in town only part of the weekend. So I (N3UM) operated SOHP TB-Wires instead. At the start fast S&P worked OK on 40m, then on 20m with beam on SA. EUs weak on 40 and 80m. Quit 0317 Z. Could not get runs going any time on Sat. But, Sun, was better Qs in 41 min. for 92.5/hr. Daytime, starting 1336 on 15 m. got 87 Qs in 1 hr. Early PM Sun. 20m was steady but slow. At 2045 Z I tried 10m and did better than computer prop forecasts had promised beaming S or SE. The suffix of the call came through clearly just about every time: "QRZ." There was a point of irony. When QRZ made calls, he often got an immediate answer. A couple of times I heard QRZ get more than a little bit frustrated with the station responding to his call. QRZ yelled, "I need your call, gimme your call." I just had to smile as QRZ dropped his abbreviated 3-letter call out again. I need to look at the ITU information again. Does anyone know which entity it is that allows Q-Signals to be issued as ham-call suffixes? Came down with a bad case of Bronchitis and it hurt to speak! Why couldn't this have been the CW weekend! Then I found that 20m wasn't loading good into my little 2 element tribander at 37 feet. Looks like something worked it's way loose and moved in the last windstorm we had here. It's enough of a handicap with only 100W and low antenna, but its even worse when your antenna is far from optimum at a 2.5:1 SWR on one of the main money bands! I did get in a lot more time than I thought I would due to being sick and helping to get the house ready for Easter Brunch we hosted for family on Sunday. Was dissapointed that I had no propagation to JA. Saw spots from the SW U.S. and west coast working JA and other Asia, but nothing heard here. Really struggled to be heard into EU through the piles on 20m. Hoping to be well recuperated for WPXCW. Won't be able to get to antenna to repair until later this summer. So it looks like I will be handicaped for yet another contest, darn operating conditions. K3S and P3 100 watts to 2 element triband at 37 feet 10,15, 20, and 80m OCF dipole at 35 feet for 80 and 40. 73, Gene...N9TF. Thanks for sponsoring this!...N9WL. A contest on Easter weekend??!! Still managed 24.7 hrs op time!...W6QU. Check log only. Did not have time to do serious...W7PSK. Antenna height 23 feet...W7UPF. Conditions were super on Saturday, not so much on Sunday. Thanks for the contacts and 73 Tom...W7WHY. 40M 1/2 WAVE DIPOLE @ 25FT, 500W...W7ZCU. Lost my voice, what a terrible time!...W8KNO. Just worked this contest for about 7 1/2 hrs not had fun...W8WOM. First Multi Op Attempt at CQWW WPX...W9BGX. Licensed 2/22/2015...W9MRL. Corrected Log - 29 March 2016...W9NJM. Had a great time and worked some nice ATNOs. Looking forward to next year...W9UIH. ORION 2, KT-34A @ 50 FEET, BRG 130 DEG., DX-88 VERTICAL / 120

RADIALS...WA2ALY. Just got back on the air after 25 yrs. This was a real challenge!...WA2FZB. Lot of fun this year, we almost hit two million points for a single operator station. Band conditions were pretty good. I had to figure operating times so that I finished two hours before the end of the contest because Sunday was Easter and we were having a family gathering!...WA6KHK. Operated remote from Northern, CA - CM98...WA6URY. As always, WPX was LOTS fun!...WA7PRC. THANKS TO W7DXX FOR THE USE OF HIS STATION VIA REMOTE-HAMS.COM...WB2RIS. Thanks to all who made this outing a great deal of fun...WB5EIN. Only operated a short time on Sunday. Conditions were poor in the morning but improved in the afternoon...WB6CZG. Was interesting doing QRP SSB part time, propagation was fascinating! 73 God Bless, Todd...WDØT. Very tough conditions...WE6Z. First effort with new club station call, our main purpose to get into Super Check Partial for future contests. Ops had fun saying "whiskey" and "kilo" or "kilowatt" a zillion times! Band conditions pretty grim but a couple of productive runs. Thanks to all for a great time...WK6KW. Rookie entry (Initial license date 04/05/13)...WK9U. Wow! This was my first All Band Low Power effort!...WN4AFP. Thanks Hal, K6RF, for the use of your club call. Condx were not as bad as the numbers appeared. Lots of stations on all bands, even worked a few on 160m this year. Thanks all who showed up...WQ6SL. First licenced 11/25/2014...WR1ST. Rookie first licensed as KM4KPH 05-19-2015...WR1TR. Tough contesting on Easter weekend, My amplifier cooked my easter eggs and melted my chocolate!...WR2G. Lots of fun. Picked up new QSOs on 80m...WR7Q. Beat my goal by 73,484 points and got some new DX for ATNOs on 40 (SSB nonetheless!). And I think I beat the WI/IL/IN record this weekend for the category. Log checking will see about that one!...WT2P. I know my score is wrong. My main contest logging would not accept the two contacts with 5E5E, so I tried using N1MM logger. My score did not update...WXØZ. Nice to be the final QSO ever for KL7RA. RIP Rich!...WX9E.
